New Year To See Completion Of New High School Plant

Construction, In First Stages, Progressing On Schedule, Hillier Says

Forecast for the new year includes the completion of a modern, three-wing high school building which is now in the first stages of construction by Hillier, Inc., Palm Beach.

Contract was let for the new plant several months ago when the County School Board received government allocation for the necessary steel. Construction was delayed from last August due to the lack of priorities for the materials.

At that time the plans drawn by Architect Edgar S. Wortman, Lake Worth, were approved by the county and state boards of education and published in this paper.

Hastening construction was the commendation of the elementary school by City Inspector N. B. Willis. The elementary school will move into the old high school building on completion of the new plant.

D. M. Hillier, president, said this week that construction is progressing on schedule and that the school should be completed sometime in June or July. It will be ready for occupancy by the fall school term.

The piling is all down and the foundations have been completed on all sections except the auditorium. The next step will be the construction of the floors and exterior walls.

On Wing A the floors have been completed and the walls will go up right away, Hillier informed. Foundation of Wing B has been completed and the first floor and walls will be constructed in about ten days, he said.

POLICE APPREHEND TWO COMMISSARY INTRUDERS

Police apprehended two Negroes who broke into the commissary of the extra gang of the Florida East Coast Railroad in the parking house district last Friday night.

L. A. Milton, colored, notified the police of the burglary about 10:30 p. m., stating that he had seen the two men passing goods out of the window and storing it in the shed. When he called Sgt. Bob Newman and Vern Clark arrived on the scene the intruders apparently had fled. Officer Clark remained in the tool shed and with the assistance of Newman and Constable Ray Whitlock apprehended the men identified as Oscar Lewis and Jim Thomas when they returned for the goods about midnight. Value of the goods was estimated at about $250.

Lewis and Thomas are being held in the city jail awaiting trial in municipal court Tuesday.

Shootin' Blanks By Paquette

New Year resolutions suffer many derisions as to their usefulness, but there is a verse by Robert Browning which says "any one talk you out of making your resolutions, for they are worth more even though they are broken."

A goal for the new year should be man's greater understanding of his brother and friend. It is a thought provoker on this idea and as the new year approaches, I am passing it on to you.

It is a dramatic and terrifying fact that a man can do a thing right a thousand times, and then when he does it wrong, even though he is right, it is a tragedy. Except for some very narrow exceptions, perhaps any of us or even all of us could be numbered with

FIRE CHRISTMAS NIGHT DESTROYS OKEECHOBEE CAMP TWO-FAMILY UNIT

A fire of unknown origin completely destroyed a two-unit dwelling in Okeechobee Camp about 9:25 Christmas night. The flame was rampant when the local Fire Department arrived on the scene. Damage was estimated at $6,000.

Residents of the units were Tooty Schaeley and family and J. W. Perry and family, instructor at Everglades Vocational School.

Cause of the fire is being investigated.

OKEECHOBEE CAMP ACCIDENT VICTIM SUCCEEDS THURSDAY

Arthur Lee Perry, 1 colored, son of Walter Perry and wife, died Thursday about 12:35 p. m. enroute from the doctor's office as a result of injuries received when hit by a car in Okeechobee Camp about 5 p. m. Christmas by a car driven by James Brown.

Another colored child Benjamin Horton, son of Willie Horton and wife also was hit.

Following the accident the victims were taken to the Belle Glade Memorial Hospital for emergency treatment and released. Perry was under doctor's care.

City Commission Has Meeting Wed.

The city commission held an unusually short meeting Wednesday night instead of Tuesday night, due to Christmas.

Commissioners passed an ordinance of special security for minimum water rates to $2 within the city limits and to $2.50 outside of the city and the minimum from 2,000 gallons to 2,500 gallons.

The ordinance providing a program of special security for city employees was passed on final reading.

The problem of the encroachment on right-of-way on Fifth Street was discussed. Several buildings extend on the right-of-way, hampering curb installation in the section, it was reported. The commission authorized City Attorney Claude Jones to negotiate with land owners concerned and to investigate possible action which can be taken by the city.

Charlie Wood, owner of Charlie's Pool Room on Ave. A, requested to continue the operation of his restaurant which adjoins the bar after liquor cooling boxes. The commission referred the matter to Chief of Police Charles Goodlett and Police Commissioner Walter Ashley.

The commission instructed the attorney to investigate the possibility of permitting the placement of advertising on the city dump for the next year. Commissioners voted to donate $250 to Lake Shore Elementary School out of the school activity fund for purchase of lunches for underprivileged children and expensive playground equipment.

The commission confirmed the appointment of the mayor. Continues on page 4

State Delegation Seeks Increase In Kenaf Acreage

State representatives joined with Luther Jones and Ralph J. Blank, manager of the County Resources and Development Board, in contending that Florida experiments this year in producing kenaf were "very successful" and asked that acreage in this section be increased from 720 acres to 8,000 next year.

The delegation appeared before the munitions board of the Defense Department to authorize the increase.

The board approved the project this year, which grew a substantial amount of the hemp substitute, replacing hemp from Pakistan and India.

The spokesman said it is now proved that kenaf can be produced on a commercial basis, that the processing "bugs" have been almost removed, and that a considerable stockpile for emergency burlap and cordage can be set aside if the government continues to encourage the program.

Ralph Davis, aide to Sen. Spessard Holland, said after the conference, "We got considerable encouragement." Offices of Sen. George Smathers and Rep. Dwight Rogers also were represented at the meeting.

The purchase of a $1,000,000 jute plant in Philadelphia for transfer to this area if the government continues to give support to the program also was discussed with federal officials.

Plans apparently involve the transfer of a 100-acre machine to Florida to make burlap for military and commercial uses.

Plans apparently involve the employment of a pay-roll running over $500,000.

CIVIL DEFENSE PROGRAM IN CO. SCHOOLS TO BE LAUNCHED NEXT WEEK

Palm Beach County's civil defense school program, set up by Col. Ellis F. Altman, county CD director, has been adopted by other state CD groups. Col. Altman told the County Commission at Wednesday's meeting.

The school program, now in printed booklet form, will be launched next week in all public and private schools in the county.

Among states which have adopted the county program are California, Texas, North Carolina and Connecticut, in addition to the University of Florida CD group.

Col. Altman explained that the "program is complete and detailed to take care of our school children in any emergency—whether war or natural disaster."

He added that "in this way we can allay parents' fears about their children, for this program is so wide in scope that it covers every possible phase, with the result that the children will be safer in school than in their homes in event of any disaster."

Forward Movement Is Seen In Industry Development And Cultural Accomplishment

The record of development progress and accomplishment within the city and area during 1951 reveals a big forward tide toward attainment of civil goals.

Although progress during different periods in the unfolding of the chamber of commerce's two major projects, which were mapped during the year, was stalemated, recent developments point to ultimate realization.

Early in the year the organization named the construction of city port and dock facilities near Torrey Island as its number one project for the year. The first step was the purchase of the proposed site from the Federal Improvement Board, which was accomplished by local delegation which appeared at a meeting in Tallahassee. In activity of this project, the commission and chamber director officials promised aid on the project and asked that City Engineer John D. Pickett be given a go ahead authorization on drawing port plans.

The commission approved the action.

The other major chamber project, the improvement of the local airport, has suffered many ups and downs during the year, with the city and county officials working to get the project provided by the Federal government, and action has been taken to get the project out of the need for this program.

Early in the year the chamber designed pamphlets on the outstanding points of interest in the area for distribution to tourists and visitors who have increased here due to the designation of federal highway 441.

Advancement during the year of the two major industries, here, farming and cattle, is illustrated by several major developments.

When Glades Livestock Market marked its first birthday, it recorded its growth with the tremendous expansion of its market cattle land expansion was rampant with the tremendous increase in the number of shipments. Adding this advance to the Everglades Experiment Station, which is continuing a series of studies and trials on supplementary feeding and grazing.

Indicating that the production of cattle is growing by leaps and bounds, the purchase of 66 acres of land for the construction of one of the largest precooling plants in the state by the Pioneer Growers Cooperative.

What might prove a new industry to South Florida and the Glades, the breeding of domestic rabbits, here is growing by leaps and bounds. The state of the Mayo Pavilion for the first time.

NEGRO CIVIC CLUB AIDING VICTIMS OF OKEECHOBEE CAMP FIRE

The Los Amigos Club, composed of negro business and professional men and headed by Dr. E. C. Christian, is sponsoring the rehabilitation of two families whose entire household belongings belonging to them were burned in a fire at Okeechobee Camp on Christmas night.

Ivory Shuler, a long time employee of the Wedgeworth Farms has three girls aged seven, eight and eleven and one five-year-old son. J. W. Perry, a school teacher at Industrial High has only one son aged eleven.

One of the biggest problems is to secure clothing for the children as well as the parents. Ivory Shuler was attending a Christmas party at the Wedgeworth Farms for employees, and the Perry accompanied her to the local football team to Vero. No one was at home when the fire started, the Shuler children being in the care of friends.

Anyone desiring to help either of these families may contact Harry Poole at 2318 or W. C. Taylor at 2775. All help will be appreciated by the club as well as by the recipients.

Feminine Florida
Since the end of World War II Florida has been growing more rapidly than any state in the Union. Even though a great many of these new residents are retired and elderly folks, there is an increasing number of young people coming to our state to establish residence. One of the most frequent reasons for this is the prospective home owners is on the matter of education. They want to know just what kind of schooling their youngsters will get.

GLENN DELL TO GIVE PIANO RECITAL SUNDAY

Glenn Dell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Dell and piano student of Frank Leo Mark Student of Music will present a recital program of diversified music at 3 p. m. Sunday in the Woman's Club. Attendance will be by invitation only.

Although only thirteen, Glenn shows great promise of attaining a very successful musical career. The recital will be the first in the county in which a young student presents a diversified selection entirely from memory.

"Her repertoire varies from the solid best of a popular tune to the delicate manipulation of Chopin or the pompous mood of Rachmaninoff. G Minor pressure," Mark said.

The recital will be the first in a series to be given by Glenn. To be introduced at the recital is the teen-age girl known as "The Southern Belle" by the name of Carolyn Scraggs.

SHOOTIN' BLANKS

"And we should know how narrowly we may have missed the fate of someone who had a terrible tragedy. This thought is impressively expressed in the comment commonly credited to John Bradford, chaplain to Edward VI of the sixteenth century England. Seeing a condemned man march off to his death, he said: 'The narrow margins by which men are often made and unmade are often made and unmade for the grace of God goes John Bradford.' Significantly he himself later met similar unfortunates."

There is often only a very fine line between winning and losing. In a race the difference may be only the shaving of a second. In a contest, the difference may be only one judge. In an accident, the difference may be only one small mechanical part.

"In so many things we do to life, there is an exceedingly thin line between safety and sorrow. We ourselves may not see it at the moment. But often others do. And afterwards we are frightened for ourselves. The difference may be only one small mechanical part."

"And we should have compassion for the man who has met misfortune, for the man who has made a mistake, for the man who narrowly missed being what he might have been and we should never forget that 'there but for the grace of God' am I. And the thought should help to keep us humble and fast to the right side of every decision, and to the right side of every road."

SOCIALISM, COMMUNISM WITH WHITE COLLAR

"Socialism is communism with a white collar. That's a definition brought back by Florida's delegation to the National Convention of the American Farm Bureau in Chicago recently."

The group credited the saying to Wade G. McCargo, executive of the National Heta-Dry Goods Association, who addressed the meeting of farmers from 47 states. (Only Rhode Island was without representation.)

Among other things he told the convention that "the domestic economy is under every conceivable control and tie president is clamoring for new controls. The controls in industry. . . We have lost many of the liberties we cherish and some business men, harassed by the ever-increasing number of government regulations . . . have just thrown up their hands and cried 'uncle'."

Small Possessions Won't Cancel Public Assistance

Possession of a hog, cow, half-acre of land and a few chickens, domestic fowl will not keep a person from receiving his full share of public assistance in Florida.

Sherwood Smith, State welfare director, recently received a telegram from the regional office of the Social Security Administration reporting that a State law providing for this was approved, based on the facts which had been presented.

The Legislature last spring gave the law a specific exemption of those items when considering the income or resources of a person in need of public assistance. Since then, the State Department of Public Welfare has petitioned the Social Security Administration to approve the law on the basis that it costs as much to produce or maintain these items by aid and blind persons or dependent children and families as the produce is worth.

Since July 1, Florida has been without an agency for the blind and for 10 days in October Federal funds were held up pending further negotiations relating to the new law.

POSSIBILITY OF U. S. FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE IN CO. SEEN

Possibility of a new, Palm Beach County headquarters for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service was seen this week in action by the county commission.

The board, at a meeting Wednesday, pledged its cooperation to the governmental agency for procurement of lands on State Road 7 between the Boynton Beach and Delray Beach roads, to be used as an entrance to the new refuge which has been turned over to the U. S. agency by the Central and South Florida Flood Control District.

Commissioner John Prince of Lake Worth, said that the county already pledged several hundred acres of county lands in the area to the wildlife service which will be converted into propagation grounds for ducks and geese.

The commission this week received advice from the Federal service advising the board that the government had offered to pay $135 an acre for a 20-acre piece of land needed to provide an access area to State Road 7.

The land is owned by Frank Hill and the commission voted to lend what assistance it could to help consummate the sale.

Prince said that the Wildlife service had originally intended to build its headquarters near the Hillsboro canal but that through the efforts of the county, the location was designated for the State Road 7 site.

Nature's Humble Violet Invented First Gun

Many, many years before man invented the first pop gun or the first full-fledged cannon, the humble violet, one of nature's most beloved of flowers, had already devised a plan of its own, and was shooting missiles all over the place.

Violets, which can be observed growing throughout the winter season in many Florida State Parks, are an unusual sight to our visitors from northern states, rigged up long ago a wonder of nature in the form of a gun that shoots out seeds into space, so they can find a new place to grow.

As the seed capsule dries, it splits into three boat-shaped sections with the seeds lying in the base of the boat. The edges of the boats keep drying and squeeze the seeds until the very pressure shoots them as far as nine feet, and a record-breaking distance if the wind catches them.

While northern states have wild yellow violets, the only violets with yellow in them that Florida knows are the cultivated pansies, a member of the violet family.

Florida violets are either white or purple. The white violets like the sun and damp ground and are quite easily seen at Gold Head Branch State Park, near Keystone Heights, and in Highlands Hammock State Park, near Sebring.

Huge purple violets hide in the grass of the pineywoods at Hillsborough River State Park, near Zephyrhills, and in Myakka River State Park, near Sarasota. A creeping violet, whose leaves have a copper-colored undersurface and a beautiful upper surface marked with deep red veins, creeps over the hills and rocks at Florida Caverns State Park, Marianna; Torreya State Park, Rock Bluff, in west Florida; and Oleno State Park, near High Springs.

Sugar Advisory Committee Submits Recommendations

Making its annual review of current research on sugarcane and beet, the Sugar Advisory Committee of the U. S. Department of Agriculture submitted nine major recommendations for future work on these crops.

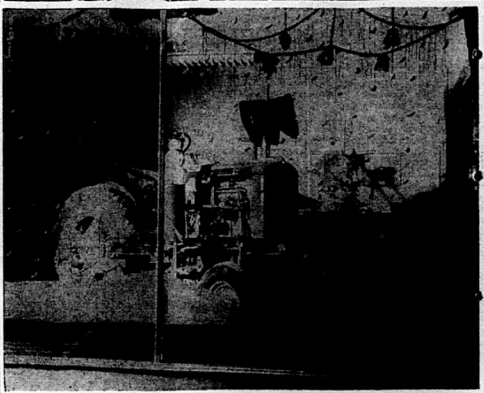

An outstanding phase in sugarcane production is the use of bagasse for making paper, received considerable study.

A recommendation to accelerate the work investigating possibilities of making paper pulp from sugarcane bagasse was one of the top priority proposals of the committee. Work to improve the marketability of bagasse pulp molasses was another.

In the field of marketing, the committee urged studies of the commercial value of mechanically-harvested cane and the marketing of sugarcane bagasse and blackstrap molasses.

The committee, meeting at Clewiston, visited Department laboratories and field plots at Canal Point and Belle Glade, and observed research work and facilities of the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station at Belle Glade and of the United States Sugar Corporation at Clewiston.

The final report of the Committee on accident records of Christmas at the Coastal Motors and Equipment Company was effectively illustrated with a winning window display of a snow scene. The decoration features placed first in the chapter of commerce sponsored contest among business places. The competition was judged by a group from the local Garden Club.

The Governor's Highway Safety Conference shows that the number of accident reports in the past six months of each year went up from 13,875 to 24,960 between 1950 and 1951.

1951 RECORD SHOWS

(Continued from Page 1) year when an old-time training program began here under the instruction of Johnny Hooker. The program provides for modern veterans who are unable to receive education and training that is still in the process of development.

Other installations included the establishment of a draft board office, the first phase of the overall city drainage program and the organization of a Glades Civil Air Patrol.

In cultural accomplishments, the first flower show, put on by the Garden Club and labeled a success, ranks high. The city's beautification program was extended to eye sore spots including the municipal country Club, Water Department grounds, chamber of commerce grounds and other spots.

Two local women attained notoriety. Mrs. Nell Seay published her book "Candy" which is set in the Glades, and Miss Sarah Creech put Sara dolls, which are Negro toys reflecting the anthropological features of the race, on the market.

More sombre events which marked the year were the deaths on the Korean battle field of two area men, Sidley Prescott and W. E. Byrd. The year 1951 also will bring memories of the drastic refrigerator car shortage causing produce here to stand and waste and the spectacular "Chicago" fire in the Alhambra properties in the colored section.

Belle Glade, Florida
Dear Mr. Jones

We'd like to run an ad in this week's Herald to tell everybody that Mr. T. D. Jones has come to work with us down at the paint shop.

We want to say that he's running the house painting and paper-hanging end of the business while we take care of the sign and neon work.

In case you aren't acquainted with Jones, he's 59 years old, has been a painter and decorator for 40 years, was with Glades Appliance a couple of years ago, has painted quite a few nice homes in Belle Glade and really knows his colors. Good paper-hanger too.

Beyond the fact that our address is 229 Avenue A and our phone is 3091 that's about all we want to say. Will you please assemble all this information into a quarter-page ad and run it in this week's Herald. Thank you.

Very truly yours,
TED IRVIN

P.S. Do you recommend printing Jones' picture?

VETERANS INFORMATION AND SERVICE

By Melvin T. Dixon
State Service Officer
Do you know the difference between Death Compensation and Pension for dependents of deceased veterans of the Armed Forces?

In distinguishing between "death compensation" and "death pension" as paid to the surviving child of deceased veterans, the basic difference to note is that "compensation" payments are made if the veteran's death was service-connected, whereas a "pension" is paid when the veteran's death was not due to service-connected conditions. Parents, whether or not dependent, are not eligible for this benefit.

The veteran must have served at least 90 days during World War I or II or after the fighting started in Korea. If a veteran's death occurred after separation from the service, the discharge must have been other than dishonorable. Eligibility requirements in the case of World War I veterans differ slightly from the others.

When you really like us

You buy insurance because you're smart — not because you get a kick out of it at the time.

When we deliver an insurance policy, nobody ever says: "Oh boy, what a beautiful policy!"

But when somebody has a fire or a robbery or a lawsuit or a loss of some other kind, and we deliver a check from the insurance company — —THAT is when people really like us. It happens frequently.

Bear with us when we try to get you to carry the insurance you should — but love us when we help you meet your loss. That's all we ask.

DAN DANEY ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR FLORIDA RAILROAD UTILITY COM.

In officially announcing my candidacy for membership on the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission, I, D. S. (Dan) Daney, wish to designate myself as my Campaign Treasurer, and the Citizens National Bank of Orlando as my Depository.

I was born in Dale County, Alabama, am 46 years old, married and have five children ranging in ages from 7 to 37; received high school education and one year of college; finished several correspondence courses and studied law for two years. I was reared in the Baptist faith; have been a resident of Orlando for three years, and of the State of Florida thirteen years, and own my home at 902 W. Concord Ave., Orlando, Florida.

So that you, Mr. Voter of Florida, may know I have had the experience and know the feelings of the common man and know what he is facing, I did all kinds of farm labor in my childhood and lived hard, lots of times with only the bare necessities of life. I know what it is to be in want, more bills than money to meet them. Yes, I have cut and hauled firewood back in Alabama to buy bread for myself and the other members of my family. I have felt the cold many times when I could have used more and better clothing. I am not saying this to make anyone sorry for me, as I feel there are scores of you who have had similar hardships, but I am telling you these things to let you know I have the knowledge of hardships which make me all the more determined to make us want to help to know how to treat our fellow man; the kind of experience I can make us want to help people in this world to better ways of living and make us want to go so. Because of my early experience, I have been an earnest and sincere desire to do everything within my power to improve and help the average man to attain better living conditions.

From 1926 to 1930, I operated a rolling store, going from house to house and meeting the public. From 1930 to 1933, through the depression, I was a prison guard for the State of Alabama; from 1933 to 1941, I conducted a grocery and sausage business, dealing with all classes of people; from 1941 to 1943 I was in defense work in Panama City, Florida, at the shipyard. From 1943 to 1945, I served as Deputy Sheriff and Sheriff in Panama City and Bay County, Florida. From 1945 until the present time, I have been a traveling salesman, covering the entire State of Florida. Have visited all of the 67 counties in the State, and I believe no one in every County I have visited believes that I am well qualified to know and understand the needs of the people in the State of Florida, based on my experience as farmer, laboring man and business man.

The Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission is one of the most powerful boards in the State, and I believe one of the most important. The majority of people in the State of Florida do not realize the importance of the office I am seeking or how closely it touches the daily lives of every individual in the State. In the past few years as though some have tried to keep its importance a deep secret.

In my opinion, the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission should be named The Florida Public Utilities Commission, as it controls more than the railroad. It controls the power companies, the companies, telephone, certain water carriers and toll bridges, truck lines and operating between cities, all types of transportation facilities as well as freight rates.

CAMERA AN IDEAL GIFT FOR YOUNGSTERS

Santa Claus is coming to town — and the kids are looking forward to all the usual gifts of Hop-along Cassidy outfits to dolls that are as real-life as you could almost classify them as dolls. It won't be long, however, that the youngsters around town will be getting a camera as a gift. It is a very clear, "Stevens" gift that the targets in these atrocious bombings were chosen because of their religious or political color of their skin. The real reason behind these bombings should be dug up and brought to light. It is certainly a job for the Governor's office.

RDB TO CONDUCT VACANT BUILDING SURVEY

County Board of Directors are to have the warehouse or vacant building space available for light industry will be made by directors of the Palm Beach County Resources Development Board. It was announced following a recent RDB director's meeting.

Directors A. E. Kirchner, Walter Jones, Emmett Roberts and Hermon Close will compile the information here all space in the complete picture of all space in the county will be on hand at County RDB headquarters for the benefit of new industries prospects.

Manager, Ralph J. Blank reported to directors that inquiries are constantly being received from industrial prospects, but that there is a shortage of space with which to meet the requests unless some additional buildings become available.

Special flight of three planes opening the West Palm Beach-Havana service of Aerovias Q was made December 15, with directors and members of RDB from all sections of the county participating.

Plans for the annual County Exposition will be made as soon as final disposition on a new site for the show has been made according to President G. B. Berens.

The entire flood control project and the second steps to afford greater protection for Everglades lands will be the subject for an area meeting to be held in Belle Glade about January 15, it was announced. The RDB has been asked to sponsor an area-wide meeting, according to Manager Blank, to discuss plans for controls in the Lake Okeechobee section.

FLA. BETTER PLACE TO RETIRE THAN NEW YORK

A newspaper story quoting New York State Senator Thomas C. Desmond that the Empire State offered better retirement possibilities for old folks than Florida brings a good natural disclaimer from Dr. Wilson T. Sowden, Florida's State Health Officer.

"We disagree with him that New York is a better place to retire than Florida," Dr. Sowden stated.

It is a source of wonder to us that so many people stay in New York until the retirement age, subjecting themselves to stomach ulcers, high blood pressure and nervous breakdowns.

It would dispute Senator Desmond's statement that Florida is ill-equipped to handle older people from the medical standpoint.

"According to recent figures from the Research Council for Economic Security in Chicago, we have in Florida a higher ratio of hospital beds than the national average. For instance, Florida has one hospital bed available for every 323 persons in the state's population, as compared with the U. S. average of one bed for every 339 persons in the nation's population."

"We also have one physician for every 813 persons, on the basis of 1948 figures.

"As for Senator Desmond's remark that St. Petersburg has a 'horde' of baby specialists and no specialists in diseases of the aged, we would like to say that geriatrics is not yet a well-defined specialty. Most physicians specializing in the various branches of surgery and medicine can give the best possible medical care for old and young alike."

"It would be silly for a doctor, for instance, to treat cancer and heart disease in a patient 75 years old who needs treatment to a person 50 years old solely on the basis of the difference in age.

"In Florida, the overall death rate and the death rate from heart disease, cancer and tuberculosis are all lower than in New York State. For instance, in 1948, the overall death rate in New York was 11.3 per 1,000 population, as compared with 10.2 for Florida.

"During the same year, Florida's death rate per 100,000 population for the following diseases was: heart, 288; cancer, 123; and tuberculosis, 31. For New York state the same figures were: heart, 434; cancer, 170; and tuberculosis, 37.

"A glance at the birth and death rates for the two states will convince anyone that they are likely to see more baby carriages and fewer funerals in Florida than in the State of New York."

HUNTING SEASON PROVES FRUITFUL IN STATE

With the hunting season well under way in Florida, thousands of hunters have been enjoying a generally good hunting season, according to O. Earle Frye, assistant director of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

With stocks of native game larger than usual, hunters have been handicapped only by heavy rains that fell in some areas just before the season opened November 20. Flooded lands made it difficult for some hunters to reach their favorite stands during the first weeks, but water levels are now reported as receding, opening up additional hunting areas.

More hunters have been reported to last year, and an additional increase is expected during the coming holiday period.

Best results reported so far have been in quail and squirrel hunting in almost all sections of the state.

Deer and turkey hunting has been good to excellent in some sections, but only fair to spotty elsewhere.

Dove hunting is expected to be about the same as last year after the season opens December 15.

Migratory ducks have been very abundant in most areas, especially in northern Florida, but unfavorable weather and water conditions after the first week of the season resulted in slow hunting for many.

Fewer geese are being taken than in previous years. This migratory bird has been reported as approximately 10 percent less than last season in certain areas.

Reports of hunting violations have been generally much lower than last year, from 50 to 85 percent less in some instances. Adult hunters seem to be cooperating with the game regulations and property owners, but authorities have been concerned by the fact that almost a third of the violators reported in one section were children from 12 to 15 years of age.
